

COUNTY'S ROAD BOND ELECTION WILL BE HELD IN DECEMBER

Issue Cannot Be Put to a Vote Until Estimates as to Cost of System and Other Facts Are Secured

It now appears improbable that an election to determine whether Cochise County shall be bonded to complete a county road system, can be held before the end of the year at the earliest. It is unlikely that the meeting in Douglas at which it is to be determined what amount shall be asked, will be held until October. This would leave no election until December.

President Gardner of the County Road Bond Issue Association, was over from Tombstone yesterday. He talked with J. J. Bowen, the local member of the executive committee, and with the secretary. Previously he had talked with County Engineer J. C. Ryan. All were satisfied that without undue haste the probable course of events would be as has been stated.

To make a detailed and accurate estimate of the cost of improvement, reconstruction and construction of a road system of over 500 miles is no small undertaking. That is a task on which the county engineer's office is now engaged. In the office there are figures as to some of the roads but the greater portion of the system asked must be personally gone over and inspected. There are instances like the one which now occupies attention in the vicinity of Silver Creek, where entirely new surveys have to be made. Engineer Ryan is carrying out the wishes of the committee that nothing be left to guess work and that the figures to be presented to the meeting of the Association in Douglas shall be approximately as accurate as obtainable. The excuse made for the delay of the proposed state bond issue, "that the voters did not have sufficient, despite information," cannot be offered again.

It was at first thought that a County Road Bond election could be held early in November. That now appears impossible. The determination of the issue must be a month later at least. After the meeting is held in Douglas petitions must be circulated, the election called, and advertised according to law. Attendance to detail is the occasion for the delay.

Cochise county is not the only county of the state that is using due deliberation in submitting the issue of road bonds. Pima County is following a similar course. In Tucson a similar project was initiated several months in advance of the first action taken at Tombstone but it now appears likely the two counties will vote on the similar issues about the same time.

Though Pima County has not the problem of satisfying so many different and distinct communities as has Cochise, its headway has been little if any more rapid. That county has the advantage of nearly all its interests being centered in or about Tucson, its committees chiefly composed of Tucsonians, but using due care, haste has been found impracticable. In each county the matter is being undertaken in all seriousness and with the idea of giving the taxpayers the best possible results. Without any consultation on the subject, the methods that each county is pursuing are very much alike. In carefulness of detail and completeness this county appears to have the better of Pima. Indications are strong that a bond issue for county roads will again be considered by Maricopa county. The press of Phoenix is again taking up the matter and it is recognized that the county has some of the poorest roads in the state. The encouragement of other counties voting bonds, or preparing to vote them, is being felt. Once the project was well in hand, but the decision in the Yavapai County Court House case resulted in the calling off of the election which was then being advertised. Legal difficulties are now removed but an entirely new campaign would be necessary in Maricopa County to warrant any assurance of success.

DEMAND INCREASE OF SUBMARINE FLEET TO GUARD COUNTRY

National Defense League Says U-Boats Are Absolutely Necessary to the United States in Campaign for Preparedness.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Without a greatly increased number of submarines for our navy the present movement for military preparedness in this country will appear to the other nations of the world as ineffective and absurd," according to a statement today of the National Defense League.

This, in brief, is the substance of the information which will be given President Wilson within the next few days in connection with his effort to ascertain all things needed to put the country in a state of better preparedness for war. Primarily, the demand for a big increase in submarines comes from the navy officers and naval experts, but it is significant that this request is backed up by army officers of high rank. Particularly among the coast artillery and the coast fortification experts is there a strong demand for submarines.

The explanation of this lies in the fact that there are at various points on the shores of the United States portions of the sea which can be protected only by submarines. This is because fortifications are not built so that the runs may sweep these waters, and the currents are so swift and unmanageable that mines cannot be placed in them with any hope of definite results.

There has come about, therefore, the unusual spectacle of a group of army officers joining navy officers in the demand for better submarine protection. That this will have a profound effect on the President in the preparation of his recommendations to Congress in behalf of greater preparedness is accepted as certain in Washington.

A big American submarine building company, according to reports received here today, is operating in Canada so successfully that, as soon as the submarines are completed for the Allies, they are put into the water and sent across the Atlantic under their own power with full war equipment and ready to meet the enemy. The building in Canada, which is devoted to assembling boats of the Holland type, is made necessary because of the international law against building them in the United States and then sending them to the Allies.

A submarine costs about half a million dollars. Three hundred submarines flying the Stars and Stripes would cost less than a week of actual war, the authorities estimate, and, since a submarine can destroy any battleship that floats, a flotilla of 300 of the under-sea craft would be an unfailing insurance against invasion by a foreign foe at any time.

The President will be told that now is the time to engage the talent and resources of American submarine companies so that not all of their output can be sent to foreign countries. The National Defense League, which will hold a great conference on National Defense in Washington, October 4-5, immediately following the Grand Army of the Republic Encampment, has for years persistently advocated large appropriations for submarines. Some of the officers of the League declare that the United States should not have less than 300 of the under-sea craft.

"With 300 modern submarines the United States could defy the world to successfully land troops on American soil,"

This statement was made recently by Lieut. C. R. Morrison, chief aide on the staff of Rear-Admiral Grant, commander of the Atlantic submarine flotilla and considered the foremost expert on under-sea craft.

"There is not a foreign nation, or even a combination of nations, that could successfully land sufficient troops on American soil to combat even our present army," declared Lieutenant Morrison.

BROOKLYN BEAUTY IS WATER SPRITE

Miss Elsie Hanneman.

With wealth, beauty, education and almost everything else heart could desire at her command, Miss Elsie Hanneman, a blue-eyed Brooklyn girl, has chosen to be a water sprite. Since her father, a well known New York corporation lawyer, first taught his little four-year-old daughter to swim, she has been at home in the water. Her love of it has won her the woman's championship in fancy diving.

made to test the case in the United States courts as the state authorities have no jurisdiction there whatever. The ruling by the commanding officer even prohibits these under bond from going to the United States postoffice and getting their mail as they have been accustomed to doing for years. They will not be allowed to go onto the reservation for any cause whatever. Alleged violations of privileges are said to be the cause of the issuance of this order.

Making Good Progress.
An examination of the work that has been accomplished by the convicts since their camp has been re-established to Tombstone canyon, shows that no time has been lost and excellent headway made. A part of the road that had been used for a distance of several yards that had not been surveyed, has been finished and several hundred yards more grading finished and now ready for the surface work.

A large deposit of decomposed granite near the old Toll House is being used for finishing and makes the best surface of anything that is to be found in the Southwest. The deposit is large enough to furnish nearly all of the dirt that will be necessary for that part of the road for a distance of a mile or two. A part of the prisoners have been at work on the culverts and bridges and have about completed two of them. A little more work and the engineers in charge expect to open up more of the grade to travel in order to do away with one or two bad hills in the old road. The state truck will leave in a day or two for Florence to bring over another lot of prisoners to assist in the work. About thirty will be added to the present number and it is expected to keep the quota up to about a hundred while the work is going on.

To Be Examined.
Dave Walsh, who has been a resident of Tombstone for a number of years, was taken in charge by the local officers and will be examined as to his sanity. For the last year he has been acting rather strangely and would wander off and be gone for days at a time. Today he came back after being gone for several days and had been without anything to eat since Monday. He often visits the cemetery and stays for hours at a time sitting or laying on the graves of his parents. It is an act of charity to have him placed where he can, at least, be given something to eat, which he does not get at the present time in his wanderings. He will be examined by the court and the doctors as soon as the matter can be reached.

GIVEN UNTIL SEPT. 17
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Haiti's parliament was given until September 17 to act upon the proposed treaty by which the United States will extend a financial protectorate over the unstable little republic for ten years. Meantime American marines will continue to occupy the principle cities to prevent a recurrence of anarchy.

CASSIDY AGAIN TO OCCUPY MOUND IN GAME WITH C. & A'S.

Boosters' Most Reliable Heaver Will Return to Hill After Long Lay-off; Whiteside Expected to Work Behind Stick.

It will be the Grays against the Boosters again, next Sunday afternoon at Warren Park diamond, but, this time, the Copper Queen organization is almost certain to look a great deal stronger than last Sabbath. Manager Buchanan has announced his decision to send the veteran Cassidy to the mound and a vigorous effort is being made to induce Catcher Whiteside to again don the shin-guards and chest protector.

Numerous fans have expressed a keen desire to see Cassidy on the hill, again, as this twirler, during his appearances in the box, showed far and away the most consistent form of any heaver working this season on the Warren diamond. Reference to the box scores of the games in which Cassidy worked shows that, in only one or two games did he yield more than seven scattered hits, while in several contests he held the batters to a limit of from two to four safeties.

It is undoubtedly an observation well within the bounds of truth to state that Cassidy's work, while on the hill for the Boosters, was never fully appreciated. It is true that "figures cannot lie", it must be equally true that Cassidy, all things taken into consideration, is the best heaver working locally this summer. Possibly he does not contribute the spectacular features of some brilliant but much less consistent pitchers but he is always dependable and, moreover, is possessed of that most valuable characteristic, namely, being strongest in the pinches. With reasonably fair support, next Sunday, he is likely to register the win.

erican citizens in this country than those citizens of German birth or descent, who are in good faith Americans and nothing else. The professional German-American has shown himself in the last twelve months as an enemy to this country, as well as to humanity. The recent exposures of the way in which the German-Americans have worked together with the emissaries of the German government—often by direct corruption—against the integrity of American institutions and against America doing its international duty, should arouse scornful indignation in every American worth calling such. The leaders among the professional German-Americans have preached and practiced what comes perilously near to treason against the United States.

LOOK FOR CLUE
GARY, Aug. 26.—A maze of conflicting theories tonight confronted the authorities who are trying to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Rev. Edmund Kayser. Although forty-eight hours have elapsed since Kayser's body, tightly bound with a cord, was discovered in a field near his home, the state and federal officials admitted tonight that apparently there is no definite clue to the slayer or slayers, or of a capable motive for the killing.

BIG STORM HAD

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 26.—The brief terrific wind and rain storm, which visited here, did some damage to the big crops of the Cucamonga and Etiwanda regions but will not be serious, however, provided the weather clears tomorrow, giving the sun an opportunity to evaporate the moisture clinging to the grapes. The storm which extended over the entire San Bernardino Valley, damaged telephone and telegraph wires, electric and power service plants as well as the county roads.
